Packing & delivery checklist

Bring handling and delivery questions into the first sourcing conversation.

Protect the product

Discuss the packing material, product sensitivity, handling and storage needs.

Choose the pack

Specify bulk, foodservice or retail format, unit weight and expected quantity.

Clarify the label

Share required language, artwork and product information before agreeing the packing.

Plan the journey

Include the destination, handling requirements, timing and any temperature-control needs.

Check the documents

Review the documents needed for the proposed product and destination.

Confirm the agreed scope

Record packing, delivery responsibilities, terms and the communication route in writing.

This guide is not a quotation or confirmation of stock, certification or supply. Availability, specification and commercial terms are agreed for each proposed order.
